DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US/5,828,284 to Huang in view of US/5,012,495 to Munroe et al., (Munroe).

Huang disclosed (Fig. 1-4) a precisely identical circuit breaker structure as claimed in claims 1-5 of the instant application, including a plastic housing with a hollow body (30) having three blades (36, 37, 38), a leg (13) having a rounded end, a resistor for a neon indicator held in said housing by a holder (inherently, since said indicator can't just hang in the air), a hook (40) pivotally connected to said leg (13) (at (131)), said hook (40) having an arm (the bottom prong) going under a bimetallic strip (45), and a precisely identical mounting structure for a front cover (50) and said hollow body (30) including pluralities of posts, orifices, and sleeves as claimed in the instant application, but did not specify that the light bulb indicator depicted on Fig. 1 is a neon indicator.

Munroe disclosed (Fig. 2) a thermally actuated circuit breaker, wherein the neon indicator (88) is used in order to simplify the device by eliminating third ground terminal, thus simplifying the design and reducing production cost of the device (column 6, lines 36+).

Since the inventions of Huang and Munroe are from the same field of endeavor, the purpose of the neon indicator disclosed by Munroe would be recognized in the invention of Huang.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a neon indicator as taught by Munroe in the circuit breaker of Huang in order to eliminate a third ground terminal, thus simplifying the design and reducing production cost of the device.

Response to Arguments

3. The Applicant's arguments presented in the Response After Final Rejection filed on 11/07/03 have been found persuasive, therefore the finality of the previous rejection is thereby withdrawn and a new final rejection is presented therein.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period

Application/Control Number: 10/052,271
